VOLUME CIX.--NO. 98. ALEXANDRIA, VA., FRIDAY EVENING, APRIL 24, 1908. PRICE 2 CENTS

That our American forests abound in plants which possess the most valuable medicinal virtues is abundantly attested by scores of the most eminent medical writers and teachers. Even the untutored Indians had discovered the usefulness of many native plants before the advent of the white race. This information, imparted freely to the whites, led the latter to continue investigations until to-day we have a rich assortment of most valuable American medicinal roots.

Dr. Pierce believes that our American forests abound in most valuable medicinal roots for the cure of most obstinate and fatal diseases, if we would properly investigate them; and, in confirmation of this conviction, he points with pride to the almost marvelous cures effected by his "Golden Medical Discovery," which has proven itself to be the most efficient stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart tonic and regulator, and blood cleanser known to medical science. Dyspepsia, or indigestion, torpid liver, functional and even valvular and other affections of the heart yield to its curative action. The reason why it cures these and many other affections, is clearly shown in a little book of extracts from the standard medical works which is mailed free to any address by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., to all sending request for the same.

Not less marvelous, in the unparalleled cures it is constantly making of woman's many peculiar affections, weaknesses and distressing derangements, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as is amply attested by thousands of unsolicited testimonials contributed by grateful patients who have been cured by it of catarrhal pelvic drains, painful periods, irregularities, prolapsus and other displacements, caused by weakness, ulceration of uterus and kindred affections, often after many other advertised medicines, and physicians had failed.

Both the above mentioned medicines are wholly made up from the glyceric extracts of native, medicinal roots. The processes employed in their manufacture were original with Dr. Pierce, and they are carried on by skilled chemists and pharmacists with the aid of apparatus and appliances specially designed and built for this purpose. Both medicines are entirely free from alcohol and all other harmful, habit-forming drugs. A full list of their ingredients is printed on each bottle-wrapper.

EXCITEMENT IN THE SENATE.

Much excitement was caused in the Senate galleries yesterday afternoon, when a voice from the men's gallery, addressed to "Mr. Fairbanks and gentlemen of this house," startled the Senate during the consideration of the naval appropriation bill.

Before this utterance had fairly escaped his lips the doorkeepers were upon him. Three doorkeepers and a policeman carried and pushed the man out of the gallery. When the detention room, in the basement, was reached, it was seen that the man was crazy, and he was locked up for an examination.

Earlier in the day the same individual had appeared at the Navy Department and announced that he had come to take charge of the office and relieve Secretary Metcalf.

In the office of the captain of the Capitol police the man was questioned closely. His answers were given in a rambling sort of a way, and he jumped from one topic to another with agility.

He declared that he was George Washington, that his home was the White House, and that he was forty-four years old. His next utterance was that he had made a survey of the entire country 400 years ago, had assisted Ben Franklin in his electrical experiments, and had superintended the building of the first railroad in the country. He followed this up with the statement that he had been born several times, the last time in 1893 in Richmond.

One of his ideas was that all school children had a mania for following him, and that he drew swarms of them after him wherever he went. He also conjured up the armies of the south and the north and declared that he could lead them anywhere.

If he was not to be known as George Washington, he was willing, he said, to be Daniel O'Connell, the Irish patriot, and if necessary he would go to Ireland to prove his identity. He then stated he had been a slave all his life, and it was time for him to be free. The Irish and the English had both oppressed him, and he would make tracks for Austria or Bavaria without delay.

The police later identified the man as William O'Leary. He is an ex-sailor, well-known in every large port of the United States. He was discharged from the navy for physical disability in 1905, and the department will have to assume charge over him until he is cured or dies. He was taken to the Government asylum last night.

MODERNIST DEFIES POPE.

Abbe Loisy, the most celebrated of the French modernists, who recently was excommunicated by the Pope, has just published an interesting volume of letters exchanged with various members of the clergy between 1902 and 1908. In a letter to Abbe Bricourt, the editor of the Review of the French Clergy, he says.

"I defy you to prove the historical authenticity of the scriptures on which are founded the apologetics of Catholicism as officially exposed by the Council of the Vatican. The Council speaks of miracles and predictions which Moses, the prophet, and especially Christ, made in abundance, and which constitute the surest and clearest proofs of divine revelation. I defy you to show me a single passage of either Testament which contains a definite prediction, incontestably realized. I defy you to show me an indubitable miracle sufficiently authenticated to be cited as irrefutable proof of the Jewish or Christian religion. I defy you to prove the formal institution of the Church of Christ. I defy you to prove by Christ's authentic teachings the revelation of the fundamental dogmas of traditional Christianity. I defy you to prove the divine institutions of the sacraments."

"E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, Ill.—Gentlemen—In 1897 I had a disease of the stomach and bowels. In the spring of 1902 I bought a bottle of Kodol and the benefit I received all the gold in Georgia could not buy. May you live long and prosper. Yours very truly, C. N. Cornell, Rodine, Ga., Aug. 27, 1906." Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

CONSPIRATORS SHOT.

President Cabrera of Guatemala himself is authority for the statement that eighteen of the ringleaders in a conspiracy against him already have been shot to death and that probably more executions will follow.

Among those who are yet to be shot are the men who were imprisoned a year ago, having been implicated in a plot to assassinate Cabrera. They were sentenced to death soon after their arrest, but the sentence had not been carried out. President Cabrera said that he had proofs that a majority of these prisoners were implicated in the new attempt to end his life, and that they will be put to death without delay.

Although there is a surface tranquillity at Guatemala City, actual conditions are serious. The military is in control of the city, and a partial suspension of business has resulted. The revolutionary feeling is strong in many quarters, and there are those who will not hesitate to go to any length or face any danger in their efforts to make away with the president. President Cabrera, for this reason, has been seen but twice or thrice in public in the last few months.

Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup acts promptly yet gently on the bowels, through which the cold is forced out of the system, and at the same time allays inflammation. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER.

FRIDAY EVENING, APR. 24, 1908.

SPEAKER CANNON is fighting mad. The American Publishers have refused to accept as genuine his proposed investigation of the print paper industry, and has proceeded to inform him and the country that they recognized in it nothing but a confidence game. This in itself was enough to arouse the resentment of the speaker, who premits no one to question his legislative affairs. But when Mr. Williams, the monority leader, telegraphed the secretary of the Publishers' Association that Mr. Cannon alone stood in the way of free wood pulp and print paper, the indignation of the speaker became more pronounced. By the time Congress had adjourned yesterday for the day the speaker had been informed that the democrats had united in a petition requesting him to designate some one, it mattered not whom, who would call for the free wood pulp and print paper bill introduced by Mr. Stevens, of Minnesota, and promising it would pass the House without opposition. It was when informed that these tactics had been restored to that the speaker lost his temper. While his anger was at its highest the speaker announced a programme for his controlled committee of investigations. The committee would go to the bottom of the print paper business, he said, and it wouldn't be diverted by any association or organization operating anywhere. If the publishers wanted to come and tell the committee what they knew they would be heard. If they didn't want to come they would have to come anyhow, for the committee was authorized to send for persons and papers. Speaker Cannon's troubles have come in a manner totally unexpected. He started on his print paper programme with the sole end in view of discrediting the president and Attorney General Bonaparte. His contention was that the administration had failed to prosecute the print paper trust and his idea was to show the American people that Roosevelt had failed where he could have succeeded.

REV. W. M. DAME, formerly of this city, but now of Baltimore, is a cautious man. When asked yesterday about the big hats and the suggestion that women be requested to take them off in church, he said:

Merry Widow hats are unconstitutional. A man is guaranteed life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness by the Constitution. No man can be happy when anywhere in the vicinity of a hat as big as an umbrella. The hats, however, are the fashion, and I reckon there is nothing more to do about the matter. There is no use arguing with a woman about her wearing apparel. In the course of time we may become more sensible and have the women wear small head coverings. Maybe they will wear some little ornament to obey the Biblical rule that women shall not appear with uncovered heads in the churches. But, then, you might as well argue with a stone wall as try to have them wear smaller hats. A woman will make all kinds of fun of her neighbor's big hat and then go buy one twice as big. Then she goes walking down the street with her chin in the air because of the size of her hat. There is no use talking about them, no use making fun of them—the women want them and they will wear them. Mere man cannot influence them. The hope lies in the future.

Mr. Dame speaks as a man having had experience in such matters.

IN London yesterday Mr. William Waldorf Astor, native-born American, but by preference a British subject, presented to the Royal United Service Museum the flag of the American frigate Chesapeake, which was captured by the British ship Shannon in the war of 1812. This flag was recently sold at auction, and as it was stated that it was sold to an American, it was generally supposed that it was to be restored to the United States. Besides the flag, Mr. Astor presented to the Museum the bugle which sounded the Balaklava charge and a number of Crimean medals. Since Mr. Astor expatriated himself his endeavors seems to be to out-British the Britishers.

THE New York legislature adjourned sine die yesterday, but hardly had the session ended when Governor Hughes caused to be filed with the Secretary of State a proclamation calling an extraordinary session to meet on Monday, May 11. The proclamation does not specify any subject to be considered by the special session, but it is well known that the governor intends to try to force the passage of an anti-betting bill directed at the race tracks. The relations between the governor and the legislature were strained to the last and the former may learn when too late that he may lead what he cannot drive.

MR. THOMAS F. RYAN in New York yesterday told the special grand jury, which investigated the Motropolitan Street Railroad, that not a dollar has been paid for 95 per cent. of the stock of the railroads of this country—all but 5 per cent of the railroad stock was water, as Mr. Ryan expressed it. If this is true the average citizen should be extremely careful in investing his money in railroad stocks.

THE House leaders are greatly incensed by the land and timber scandals, and now it is proposed to stop the scandals by abolishing the secret service which exposed the thieves.

From Washington.

(Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.)

Washington, D. C., April 24.

Alabama's new Senator J. M. Bankhead delivered his maiden speech in the Senate this afternoon in advocacy of his proposition for an appropriation of $500,000 for the improvement of dirt roads under the direction of the Postmaster General and the Secretary of Agriculture. He said that 90 per cent of the internal commerce of the United States was transported over dirt roads and predicted that within the lives of many of his fellow Senators traction engines and automobiles would be utilized in hauling market and forests products to market over improved roadways.

Upon his own request, received at the Navy Department today, Rear Admiral Charles M. Thomas will haul down his flag as commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet May 15, with in one week after he has first hoisted his flag. All other commands will accordingly shift at the same time, making Rear Admiral Sperry a commander-in-chief on May 15 instead of his waiting until July 6, the date of the fleet's sailing for home, as was originally intended. Admiral Thomas, who is now in acting command, will take the fleet into San Francisco harbor on May 6, when, it is expected, Rear Admiral Evans will rejoin his command. Whether Admiral Evans is able to be on the fleet or not his flag will remain up till May 9, following the joint review of the two great fleets by Secretary Metcalf and his special staff. Admiral Thomas, in his communication to Secretary Metcalf, stated that while he appreciated the opportunity of having the honor of being the regularly assigned fleet commander-in-chief, he thought it advisable, for the good of the service, to relinquish this command almost at once. This, in order to give Admiral Sperry the permanent command, the free hand is making all his necessary plans for the home-coming cruise.

The president won a victory at the Capitol today, when the House committee on the judiciary voted down the report of the sub-committee reflecting on Judge L. F. Wilfley, of the U. S. Court of Shanghai, China. The president had declared Wilfley did not deserve the reprimand. The committee also voted down a resolution to impeach Wilfley. A resolution was adopted for presentation to the House stating "that after investigation it is of the opinion that no proceedings should be taken on the Waldo resolution for impeachment."

The president accepted today the resignation of H. Fairfax Ayres of the 7th Cavalry to take effect May 14. Lieut. Ayres is a son of Col. G. Ayres and the central figure of the recent episode in West point out of which grew a storm for the War Department.

The president today transmitted to the Senate the draft of a bill drawn by the State Department, providing for the transfer of certain United States land in Pekin, China, to the Bank of Indo-China, in exchange for certain land there which the United States government desires.

The Hartford, Admiral Farragut flagship, was placed in commission at the Norfolk navy yard today, to be the flagship of the Naval Academy practice squadron for the midshipmen's cruise beginning after the graduation in June.

Secretary Metcalf will leave Washington Monday afternoon for San Francisco to officially welcome and review the Atlantic fleet upon its arrival there, when it will have completed the voyage begun at Hampton Roads, December 16, last.

The War Department has decided to withdraw from Cuba the two battalions of the 27th Infantry now on duty with the army of pacification.

Commander Sutton, the harbor master, took 856 old pistols that had accumulated at police headquarters during the past few years, down the river this morning and destroyed them.

The public buildings and grounds bill will be completed late today by the House committee. The bill will be reduced $3,000,000.

Secretary of War Taft is preparing to make his annual pilgrimage to Panama this spring.

CONGRESSIONAL.

In the Senate yesterday the naval appropriation bill was discussed for three hours; but the battleships section went over until today.

Increases in the bill in the Senate bring the total up to $120,000,000.

A demented sailor interrupted the proceedings by addressing the Chair from the gallery.

After long discussion the House by a vote of 245 to 8, passed the Senate joint resolution directing the attorney general to proceed with measures looking to the forfeiture of the land grants of 2,000,000 acres made to the Oregon and California Railroad Company, a branch of the Southern Pacific.

A bill to require the removal of the railroad tracks to the Washington navy yard was taken up, but not voted upon.

CHURCHES AND THE BYRD LAW

In view of the widespread misunderstanding of certain provisions of the Byrd law, recently enacted by the Virginia Legislature, Judge Thomas W. Harrison, of Winchester, gave out the following statement yesterday, which is in reply to an urgent inquiry from a prominent clergyman.

"In my opinion the law does not forbid the use of wine at communion. One clause of the Byrd law forbids any person from selling or dispensing intoxicating liquors on Sunday, Christmas or election days. Certain justices of the peace in Loudoun county and Alexandria are reported to have construed 'dispensing' as giving, and fined persons for giving a drink to a friend on Sunday. My own idea in this is that they are clearly wrong. The words 'selling' and 'dispensing' in the particular clause have reference to the authority to sell or dispense in the other clauses in the law. Of course, if the law is that no one can give a drink to a friend, a clergyman could not give wine in the communion service. Under the Byrd law no one can sell liquor at any time but a licensed dealer. He can sell, but not on Sunday. Under this law there is no prohibition against anyone giving or dispensing liquor without sale at any time, except social clubs at their clubhouses. Such clubs must have a license, and then they are forbidden to sell or dispense liquor on Sunday. It seems to me that this is the plain meaning of the law."

New York, April 24.—The stock market opened with slight advances generally recorded. By the end of ten minutes trading most of the initial advances had been increased. The tone was firm. Some of the larger traders and professional speculators seeing that covering was under way started bidding up prices, and made new high levels for the year in many stocks around midday.

Death of the Duke de Chaulnes.

New York, April 24.—Private dispatches to a Wall street brokerage house today state that the Duke de Chaulnes, who recently married Miss Shonts, daughter of Theodore P. Shonts, died last night in Paris.

There is as yet no confirmation of the report which carries with it no particulars of the reported death of the duke.

A similar telegram was received at the town home of Mr. and Mrs. Shonts. Like the one received in Wall street, it contained no reference as to the cause of death, simply reading: "De Chaulnes died suddenly last night."

Mr. Shonts at once cabled to his daughter that he and her mother would leave for Paris at once.

Paris, April 24.—The Duke de Chaulnes was found dead in bed today beside his wife in their apartment in the Leigham Hotel. De Chaulnes on February 15 married Miss Theodora P. The couple left after a short bridal tour in the south for Paris, where they have been ever since. It was not even known that the young husband was in ill health up to the moment of his death, which was absolutely unexpected.

The Duke de Chaulnes was 30 years old. His full name was Emanuel Theodore Barnard Maried Albert de Luynes d'Ailly. He was ninth Du de Chaulnes et Piquigny. He was a victim of heart disease.

New York, April 24.—Mr. and Mrs. Shonts will sail for Paris on the St. Louis in the morning.

Sixtieth Congress.

SENATE.

The Senate today passed a resolution offered by Mr. Heyburn of Idaho, calling upon the Secretary of Agriculture to send to the Senate the names of all officers and employees of the forestry service who had attended forestry conventions the last year. The last stand of the administration forces in Congress for the presidential naval policy of four new battleships, instead of the naval committee's program of 2 big warships, was made in the Senate late this afternoon, when Mr. Piles pressed his amendment in behalf of the administration forces.

Chairman Hale, of the naval committee, in opposing the amendment, declared that the American navy was now so large "that you may divide it in two and leave larger fleets on the Atlantic and Pacific than the battle fleet now cruising up the Pacific coast."

GRANT'S BODY FOUND.

The finding of the dead body of Charles Adrian Grant, of Baltimore, Charlottesville and Washington, yesterday, shows that he carried out his threat to take his own life, as contained in the note he left in his stateroom aboard the Old Bay liner Florida on April 13. The body was found floating off Bug Light by the government tug Reno, and was taken to Fortress Monroe. It was decided to forward the remains without delay to Middleburg, Loudoun county, where the interment will take place tomorrow. The remains of Grant were amply identified by papers in his pockets.

The deceased was a descendant of an old Scotch family, his father, Henry Grant, being a retired officer of the Seventy-fourth Gordon Highlanders, and his mother, Lady Isabella Keith Falconer, daughter of Anthony Adrian Keith Falconer, seventh Earl of Kintore. The family came to this country in 1872, and C. Adrian Grant made his home with his sister-in-law, Mrs. Falconer Grant, in Loudoun county, first, and afterwards at the University of Virginia, which place was his legal residence at the time of his death, although he divided his time between Charlottesville, Baltimore and Washington.

Telegraph and telephone wires are down and reports are slow in arriving. The tornado struck the house of John Mangleson, near Bender, Neb., and then swooped up into the air, taking the wreckage of the house, and both Mr. and Mrs. Mangleson. Both were killed, their bodies being carried a mile. George Waecker and family were at lunch when the cyclone struck their house. Three of the family were seriously injured. The dead body of a little baby was picked up in the public road, 10 miles from Bancroft. The child has not been identified, but undoubtedly was brought by the cyclone from some residence which was wrecked.

A Woman Tells How to Relieve Rheumatic Pains.

I have been a very great sufferer from the dreadful disease, rheumatism, for a number of years. I have tried many medicines but never got much relief from any of them until two years ago, when I brought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I found relief before I had used all of one bottle, but kept on applying it and soon felt like a different woman. Through my advice many of my friends have tried it and can tell you how wonderfully it has worked.—Mrs. Sarah A. Cole, 140 S. New St., Dover, Del. Chamberlain's Pain Balm is a liniment. The relief from pain which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. It makes rest and sleep possible. For sale by W. F. Creighton and Richard Gibson.

For this section showers and thunderstorms tonight and Saturday; increasing southerly winds.

A MEMENTO OF WAR TIMES.

In the show case in front of Mr. A. L. Jamieson's studio, on King street, a relic of war times is being exhibited. It is a copy of an order delivered to a number of Alexandrians on June 29, 1863, to take the oath of allegiance to the United States or leave Alexandria. The order is signed "H. H. Wells, Lieutenant Colonel and Provost Marshal of the defenses south of the Potomac." Those who refused to subscribe to the oath were directed to place their baggage aboard the steamer Sylvan Shore at the foot of Prince street on Monday, July 6, and the steamer was scheduled to leave at 9 o'clock on the following morning for City Point, from which place the passengers were to be sent into the Confederate lines. Most of the Alexandrians who received the missives declined to take the oath or to make any other movement toward manifesting loyalty to the federal government, and they made arrangements to leave the city. In the meantime the War Department had rescinded the order, but the military authorities of this city kept this information from the people most vitally interested, and allowed them to sell their household effects, preparatory to the supposed trip. On the morning the steamer was scheduled to leave the Alexandrians were on the dock. Shortly before noon the announcement of the revocation of the order was made.

AUCTION SALES TOMORROW.

Capt. R. F. Knox, auctioneer, will offer at public sale in front of the Royal street entrance to the City Hall at 11 o'clock a. m. tomorrow the machine shop and foundry and all the machinery used in connection therewith, and all patterns belonging to the firm of W. S. Moore's Sons. Several dwelling houses and lots will be offered for sale at the same time.

Capt. Knox will also sell at the same place at noon a lot of ground with the improvements thereon on the west side of St. Asaph street near Queen.

Mr. W. Strother Jones, executor of the estate of Frances P. Smoot, deceased, will sell at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at 622 King street several portraits.

PUBLIC SPEAKING.

William O. Coleman, colored, who has recently been soliciting subscriptions for the erection of a stand and the purchase of benches, announces that what will hereafter be known as "Colonel Coleman's Park" will be opened on Thursday next at 3:30 p. m. Speaking will begin at 6.30. The "park" is situated in the square bounded by Gibbon, Franklin, Lee and Union streets. Coleman says prominent speakers will be on hand, and republicanism, democracy, socialism, prohibition, anti-prohibition, things past, things present and things to come will be freely discussed.

THE FISHERY.

The warm weather caused Fishtown to make its presence known this morning. The wind was from the east, and it wafted the effluvium from the fish and offal, as well as from many of the finny tribe which were in an advanced state of putrefaction which attacked the olfactories of pedestrians squares away. The receipts of herring have increased, but prices show no material reduction. They were selling at from $5 to $4 per thousand. Shad continues scarce. They still bring from $20 to $40 per hundred.

SLIGHT FIRE.

The setting fire of an ash barrel in the rear of a house on north Pitt street, this morning, came near resulting in the destruction of considerable property. As it was, a small frame structure in the yard belonging to Mr. Thomas Waddey was considerably damaged. The ash barrel was located in the yard of the premises adjoining Mr. Waddey's workshop at the south. The fire department was not called into service, but a extinguisher from the Columbia engine house was used with good effect.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES.

The eighty-ninth anniversary of the organization of Odd Fellowship in the United States will be celebrated on Sunday night next by Potomac Lodge, No. 38, I. O. O. F., of this city. The lodge will attend special religious services, which will be held in Grace Church. Rev. Edgar Carpenter, the rector, will preach a sermon on that occasion. Members of Sarepta Lodge, No. 46, have been invited to attend.

FIGHT.

Two young men engaged in a rough-and-tumble fight in a yard on King street a day or two ago. One of the combatants was arrested yesterday by Officer Nicholson, and the case was called in the Police Court this morning, but postponed in order that the other man may be apprehended. Both the belligerents, it is said, had been paying attention to a young woman, and they unfortunately met at the house at the same time.

RECEPTION TO PASTORS.

The members of Trinity M. E. Church will tonight tender a reception to Rev. W. W. Van Arsdale, who has been reappointed to the church in this city. An interesting programme of exercises has been prepared for the occasion. Refreshments will be served.

There was a book social in the Sunday school room of the church last night which was well-attended.

FIREMAN KILLED.

The colored fireman of locomotive No. 861 of the Southern Railway was killed in a peculiar manner at Monroe early last night. The top of the oil cup on one of the driving rods of the engine blew off. The piece of metal came in contact with the rod and rebounding struck the fireman on the head, crushing his skull.

RIVER VIEW.

It is understood that River View will undergo a great change preparatory for this season's excursions. Capt. Van Cleaf, the new manager of the Washington and Potomac Steamboat Company, has had plans prepared for the construction of a new refreshment building and for a moving picture theater, a shooting gallery and a penny arcade, and the work on these buildings is to be started, at once. The grounds at this resort are to be beautified with flower gardens and other features. All the old amusements at the resort are to be put in order.

LOSS BY FIRE.

In a fierce forest fire raging near Brentsville a great deal of sawed timber ready for market has been destroyed. Mr. John A. Marshall of this city is loser to the extent of 75,000 feet of lumber, valued at about $800. It was impossible to check the fire after it was well under way. There was no insurance on the property. The fire is raging on what is known as the Gregory tract.

PIMLICO NOTES.

Mr. Courtland H. Smith, the well-known rider, and his partner Jay O'Brien will go to Baltimore to ride their horses, Pete Dailey and My Grace, in the Elkridge Hunters' Steeplechase. Mr. Smith will have the mount on Pete Dailey and Mr. O'Brien on My Grace. It looks as if they would repeat the victory they won at Benning in the Chevy Chase Hunt race.

LOWEST BIDDER.

It is understood that for the remodeling of the Corporation Court room there were four bidders, three of them out of town and one—Mr. Julian D. Knight, in this city, and that Mr. Knight was the lowest bidder, his bid being $4,090.90. All the other bids were from Washington and ranged from $4,586 to $5,892.

About $5,000 is being expended on Notley Hall in beautifying the place for the summer excursions of the colored people. Besides the attractions already there the company owning these grounds has constructed a scenic railway and other amusements for those who patronize this resort.

Mammoth Cave.

For many years after the discovery of Mammoth cave the entire work of exploration was practically in the hands of negro slaves, the property of the man who owned the cave. Sometimes they would come to an obstacle that barred the passage, such as a great limestone rock or a yawning crevasse across the way. Such obstacles would often stop exploration in that direction for years, though beyond the obstruction there were likely to be scores of beautiful chambers and many miles of passageways. Thus it happened that for years nothing was known of that large part of the cave lying beyond the abyss named the Bottomless pit. This obstruction was known for over twenty years before it was crossed. Then one day in 1837 the negro cave explorer Stephen and some of his fellows dragged to the place the trunk of a small tree, and on this rather dangerous bridge Stephen crawled across the abyss. Then began the explorations that revealed one of the most wonderful and extensive parts of Mammoth cave. The abyss was found later to be 180 feet deep.
